The Norwegian Motorcycle Union (NMCU)

NMCU was formed in 1972 and is the sole organisation looking after the interests of Norwegian road-riding motorcyclists.

NMCU has 10.000 individual members from more than 350 member clubs.

NMCU is lead by a Management Committee, elected at the Annual General Meeting. The organization has Regional Committees in several of Norway's 19 counties and keeps a Secretariat (the NMCU Office) with three fulltime employees, handling the day-to-day business.

NMCU also holds a seat in the National Motorcycling Council, a consultative body with the other members representing the Department for Transport, the Police, the Norwegian Road Safety Agency and the Industry.

Internationally, NMCU is an active member of the Federation of European Motorcyclists Associations (FEMA).

About this website and language:

The main target for this site is the Norwegian public (both motorcyclists and others), including the government and media. Hence, most of the information herein is in Norwegian, which probably represents an undue challenge to the lingual skills of many foreign readers.

There are some exceptions, though, mainly in the sections listed above. All reports are published in their original language (if possible).
